

Mario Alba, Jr.

Partner

“Protecting institutional and individual investors is what we do and who we are.”

Mario Alba is responsible for initiating, investigating, researching and filing securities fraud class actions. He has served as lead counsel in numerous class actions and advises institutional investors.

At the Firm, Mr. Alba is responsible for initiating, investigating, researching and filing securities and consumer fraud class actions. He is also an integral member of a team that is in constant contact with clients who wish to become actively involved in the litigation of securities fraud. In addition, Mr. Alba is active in all phases of the Firm's lead plaintiff motion practice.

Prior to joining Robbins Geller Rudman & Dowd LLP, Mr. Alba was involved in civil litigation in the area of no-fault insurance as well as contractual work.

During his summers between law school, Mr. Alba clerked at the Firm. His experience included investigating and researching potential securities class actions and antitrust law suits.

Office

New York
T: (631) 367-7100
E: malba@rgrdlaw.com

Practices

Securities

Education

Hofstra University School of Law, J.D., 2002

- Selected to participate in the Hofstra Moot Court Seminar
- Active member of the Student Bar Association

St. John's University,
B.S., 1999, Finance, with distinction

- Dean's List during three of his four years of attendance

Admissions

New York

United States District Courts for the Southern and Eastern Districts of New York

(cont.)

United States District Court for the Eastern District of Wisconsin